JADA BRADY,

Case No. 11-REM-04-0096

Appellant

v.

May 20, 2011

LIQUOR CONTROL COMMISSION,

Appellee

JAMES R. SPRAGUE

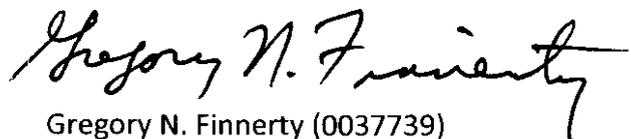

Administrative Law Judge

NOTICE OF APPELLANT'S INTENTION TO WITHDRAW HER APPEAL

Now comes Appellant in the above captioned matter, by and through counsel, and respectfully informs this esteemed body of her intention to withdraw her appeal. The reason behind this action to withdraw her appeal is that her grievances with her employer that had made this appeal appropriate and necessary have been addressed and resolved in what can be described as a mutually satisfactory and amicable settlement agreement. While it is a source of comfort to an aggrieved public sector employee to know that the SPBR is constituted to receive such claims, the cooperation of the state in resolving her grievances was appreciated to the extent that it was no longer necessary to proceed with her appeal.

Appellant had been subjected to some of the most improper and horrific conditions of employment that could be imagined by entities that could now be termed past leadership of the Liquor Control Commission. Fortunately for all parties to this matter, a recent change in that leadership has made it possible for Appellant to resign her position with her exemplary record of duty and service to the Liquor Control Commission, not to mention her dignity, intact.

Respectfully submitted,

Gregory N. Finnerty (0037739)
