REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

To the Honorable State Personnel Board of Review:

These causes come on due to Appellee's October 26, 2012 filing of motions to dismiss and accompanying memoranda in support concerning each of the three above-captioned appeals. Appellant was provided with the requisite time and with additional time to file Appellant's memoranda contra to Appellee's motions to dismiss, but failed to do so.

These matters were set for Status Conference, which was scheduled to occur on December 18, 2012 at 10:00 a.m. The Scheduling Notice for the Status Conference was mailed on November 1, 2012, by regular U.S. Postal Service mail. Appellee appeared at Status Conference through its counsel, Assistant Attorneys General Matthew J. Karam and Joseph N. Rosenthal. Appellant failed to appear and no good cause has been shown for that failure to appear. Appellee moved to dismiss the three instant appeals for Appellant's failure to appear.

I find that Appellant has failed to comply with this Board's requirements for filing a memorandum contra to a properly filed and supported motion to dismiss, as set forth in O.A.C. 124-11-07 (A) (2) and (C). Further, his failure to appear at the December 18, 2012, Status Conference violates O.A.C. 124-11-19. These violations evidence Appellant's failure to prosecute the above-referenced appeals, and merit dismissal of the matters.
